John Mills Electric Receives 2015 Safety Excellence Award Elmira-based Company Touts Above and Beyond Safety Practices

ELMIRA HEIGHTS, NEW YORK – May 6, 2015 – John Mills Electric, a full service electrical contracting company, headquartered in Elmira Heights, New York announced today that it has received the National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA) 2015 Safety Excellence Award.

John Mills Electric has been serving the Southern Tier area since 1946, specializing in the design, installation, service and repair of electrical systems for residential and commercial customers. The company has grown from 6 initial employees with sales of $600,000 to a company today with sales in excess of $25 million, and depending on needs, employing as many as 200 staff and technicians.

NECA's Safety Excellence Award program is an elite safety recognition industry staple focused on recognizing thriving companies that excel in multiple areas of their safety and health programs. Awards are given to member companies that consistently have OSHA recordable injury and fatality rates at levels lower than the industry standard, and implement internal company safety practices above and beyond basic compliance. Winners are selected based on their comparison to BLS data and electrical contractors.

"John Mills Electric is committed to jobsite safety and ensuring a safe working environment for our employees," said Lindsay Mills, president of John Mills Electric. "All of our electricians have completed the OSHA 10 course and all of our field supervision and project managers have completed the OSHA 30 course. This NECA award confirms that we have the proper safety programs and practices in place for our workers, and that we are getting the desired results. Workplace safety will always be the top priority of our company, and we will continue to improve in every way that we can."

In addition to this NECA award, John Mills Electric has received several awards through the years for their continued focus and improvements on safety.
